Written by JREF Staff Thursday, 08 November 2012 17:16

If you missed The Amaz!ng Meeting 2012, you can still catch great talks, panels, and workshops on science and skepticism given live at TAM 2012 on our YouTube page. Today, we are happy to share two more inspiring presentations.

"How Not to be a Paranormal Investigator"

Join James Randi, Banachek, Benjamin Radford, and Matthew Baxter for this panel discussion on the right and wrong ways to investigate paranormal activity, moderated by the JREF's Director of Communications Carrie Poppy.

Sean Faircloth - "Beware the Religio-Industrial Complex"

Sean Faircloth of the Richard Dawkins Foundation for Reason and Science warns against the dangers of faith-based decision making in the public sphere.

See more TAM 2012 videos $\,\underline{\text{here}}\,.\Box$